WEDNESDAY MORNING MAR 16, 1864

Only Two Parties

In a speech recently delivered at the banquet to the Irish Brigade, Gen Thomas F Meagher thus pertinently presented the question of parties in the Union at this time

There are but two parties in this country one the federal armies under Abraham Lincoln and the other, the rebel armies under Jeff Davis These are the only two parties in the country to day and until the party headed by Jeff Davis has been utterly routed and annihilated, stand by your pars It is the party of the country, of its history, of its future

Here is the whole truth, in the smallest possible compass Every man—we care not what his professions may be—is a friend of Lincoln's Union army, or of the rebel forces under Davis Both cannot succeed, and no one can be a friend of the Republic, without laboring by his voice his vote and all his energies in behalf of that noble host of patriots, who under the starry flag, are striving to save the life of the country and to overcome treason Still further, no man who refuses enthusiastically promptly and with all his might, to help that army, has any right to find fault because he is recognized as one of the band of rebels His sympathy is on their side, and his efforts tend to give them strength he will not act and speak and vote to help the Government Why then should he complain that he is classed with traitors? We do not ask him to say that he approves or justifies every minor detail of administrative action, but we do insist, if he means to claim that he loves his country, and wants to be known and respected as a loyal subject, that he shall not act with a party, which persistently opposes the Government in all its great measures, and which rejoices in every reverse that comes to it. No man who loves the Union will be willing to support those, in whose success, the rebellion takes courage or will suffer his influence to be felt in favor of schemes which are sure to benefit the cause of treason and to weaken the majesty and the integrity of the institutions of freedom

THE WAY TO PUT DOWN ABOLITIONISTS — The Pittsburg Post, one of the most influential Democratic papers in Pennsylvania, and one too, which has never manifested the slightest sympathy with the Government during the war, but has fought it with all possible energy, has at last discovered that there is a sensible way of stopping anti slavery agitation We advise all peace Democrats to read what it says, and then to follow its suggestions, for they may be sure, that it never will be possible to put down the Abolitionists, except by removing their cause of complaint

We feel satisfied that the future peace of this now bleeding and distracted country requires the total extinction of slavery among us We do not allude to its end in this year or next, or whether it shall disappear in this generation or in the next. Our idea is that its final abolition at some fixed period, is necessary for the future peace of this republic One of the results of the present rebellion will be the weakening, or, perhaps, the destruction of one of its causes — slavery in the South With that will follow the death of abolition among ourselves Then after the terrible experience of the present times, our country will be re created and increased civilization, on luminous wings, will spread its blessings upon a regenerated republic, destined to be the greatest nation upon which the sun has yet shone

RUSSIAN TALK OF GIVING UP POLAND — A late number of the Government organ at St Petersburg, has a remarkable article demanding whether it is really an advantage for Russia to retain the kingdom of Poland, which can only be held by the constant exercise of force The article comes to the conclusion that Russia would obtain both happiness and liberty of action by giving Poland up altogether, when this can be done honorably and without the appearance of compulsion, and that every enlightened Russian who is really the friend of his country would hail with joy the attainment of such a result

RIGHT TO THE POINT —The Missouri Democrat in an article headed "Immediate and Gradual Emancipationists," says

"Some obscurity in the minds of people abroad as to the real difference between the parties above named, in the State of Missouri, would, perhaps, make a word of explanation necessary. The difference is easily stated. The immediate Emancipationists want to get rid of slavery as soon as they can —the gradual Emancipationists want to keep slavery as long as they can The former desire emancipation from choice—the latter are willing to take it when they can't help themselves

GOOD WISHES IN ADVANCE —On New Year's a western M C calling on the President, said, "a year from to day, Mr President, I hope to congratulate you on three events

1 The suppression of the rebellion
2. The entire abolition of slavery.
3. The re election of Abraham Lincoln "

"I would be very willing to compromise,' said the President, "on the first two "

"I trust," said the M C, 'God will bless the country with all three events "

A QUAKER WOMAN'S WONDER — Friends there are three things I very much wonder at the first is that children should be so foolish as to throw up stones, clubs and bricks into fruit trees after fruit; if they would let it alone it would fall itself The second is that men should be so wicked as to go to war, and kill one another, if they would let one another alone, they would die of themselves The third and last thing is that young men should be so unwise as to go after the young women, if they would only stay at home, the young women would come after them

EDITOR OREGONIAN

I desire to avail myself of the columns of your valuable paper, for the purpose of expressing opinions and fears as well, which I share in common with very many of the more thoughtful portion of the people of this State I am more free to act upon this purpose when I reflect that the opinions of correspondents are not regarded as being necessarily those of the editor for which he holds himself responsible If then any one shall find fault with what I herewith offer you have only to say as much as this to him

The questions have often been asked how it happens that so often very intelligent men in the community continue to gain official stations the whereby the methods by which more than one corrupt and treasonable fellow have made their way to official notice I do not think I shall not go very wide of or feet answer to these inquiries when I say that the unintelligent men have manifested an amount of brass and willingness to prostitute themselves and to descend to the low business of those with whom for the time being they were associated A strong that marked example of this is found in the case of one who has only for the country is now fortunately load beyond the power of resuscitation, his life so utterly extinct that no sort of galvanic contrivance can ever be applied as to cause an exhibition of any of the phenomena of vitality Without any doubt the chief causes of his success in making a considerable figure in the world, or at least in his community, to be a leading man in Oregon for many years, were the facts that he had a good stomach a loud voice, a brazen cheerfulness, and could swear much and drink whisky freely It certainly was a great affliction to every sensible and cultivated citizen that one with no better qualifications than those should for so many years, take the lead in public affairs and give form to the policy of a young and vigorous State

In brief brass and humbug have been the only elements of the success of the political adventurers and charlatans that have in so many instances enabled inferior men to succeed in gaining power Their manner seemed to indicate that they had fully possessed themselves of the idea as the leading one of their policy that great is the power of brass, and greater still is the power of humbug Indeed, they appear to have settled it in their minds that a majority of the people of Oregon would much rather be humbugged than not. At least such is the impression which will be made upon the mind of any man who observes that these men are in the habit of studying the particular bent or inclination of the people with whom they converse, and of adapting themselves, irrespective of principle and the public good, to the bias thus observed And, judging, from the fact that these demagogues have always sought to obtain power by the management of the passions and prejudices of the people, it is very certain that the canvassing thought had never once been conceived in their minds that a man who resolutely follows the dictates of an enlightened conscience, without ever pausing to look back over his shoulders for the purpose of ascertaining how many are likely to follow him along a given line of policy, and by artifice be led into error, but never can into guile These men, thus becoming place hunters by profession, instead of looking out for some expedient to turn the very natural passions and affections of the people on the side of truth and honor, seek to pander to them and to so pervert them as to turn them to the accomplishment of ends purely selfish and without care or thought for the public weal

But men, the opposite of these in their principles and practices, would follow a very different line of conduct. While those I have thus described will pursue any tortuous and crooked way, so that it but promises to lead to selfish ends, men who are truly patriotic will make any sacrifice of mere personal desire and interest for the sake of the country at large Although as a great and intelligent political party, largely in the majority they would under a given state of circumstances consent for the sake of the nation, to forego the enjoyment of the fruits of political victory Unselfish and patriotic to the last degree, they would sacrifice all the advantages of their position for the sake of a union with others, that this State might be saved from all the horrors of civil strife. The motive would be one which could only spring from a benevolent heart that loved its country more than its party, and if the sacrifice was the price of the union, without which the two parties would not have been consolidated, and if the consummation of that sacrifice had become essential to their contending together for the purpose of saving the country from falling into the hands of its enemies, then I am sure they would yield, in the name of all that is dear to the real lovers of their country, however unjust it might be to demand it at their hands I will venture to express the opinion that even now the people are very much too ready to receive as genuine the artful and insincere professions of loyalty as they fall from the lips of impudent, conceited and pragmatical demagogues, thoroughly acquainted with and practiced in all the arts of political chicanery—men whose position as to the rebellion was not publicly known six months or perhaps even six weeks ago, although the rebels have now been in arms three full years

I believe that I do not say too much when I affirm that as a legitimate consequence of the arrogance and presumption of those who with brazen face and unblushing impudence have pushed aside persons too modest as to their own merits, Oregon has not unfrequently has misrepresented by men of certainly not more than average ability and in fully as many instances of considerable less than average natural worth. Indeed, I am persuaded that it is not going too far to say that in our history as a State there has been verified the truth of the sacred page, which declares that "The wicked walk on every side when the vilest men are exalted

It is not to be imagined that the most intelligent and I may add, the most virtuous portion of the people are persons of soft and fearful tempers because they thus give themselves up implicitly as they so often have, to the direction of the bold, the turbulent, and the overbearing to those whom they do not believe wiser or better than themselves, and many others of their fellow citizens, in all the moral worth and intellectual goodness which constitute fitness for an efficient and faithful discharge of the duties of a high public trust And yet, it has by some strange and unhappy combination of untoward circumstances, so fallen out that they have been often overborne by the arrogance of the veriest pretenders, wholly ignorant of the first principles of the science of government and political economy, although they presume to claim the emoluments and the patronage of office They affect, too, the style of superiority and seem to put themselves above the fear of being questioned as to their possessing any of the qualifications usually thought necessary in one who seeks office at the hands of the people.

In view of these facts and of others following from them, which are patent to every unprejudiced man who will survey the present condition of the State and scan the horizon of the future, it is very certain that to work a reform of existing abuses requires the ablest hands which ambition can invoke, friendship engage, money procure, or patriotism dictate to effort And it is certainly very important for every good citizen, and especially for those who in a short time are to meet in Albany as a Union State Convention, to do what is yet possible to apply a corrective to that which has been so fruitful of evil to this State

With your permission, I will write again
March 9th, 1864 VINDEX

A MERCIFUL CONVERSION — The New York Herald of February 8th comes out bitterly and sarcastically in the total abolishment of slavery The following is the main essence of its leading article upon this subject

It appears that those who perceive that the anti slavery fanaticism is rapidly obtaining control of the Northern Democracy are beginning to realize the fact that the main source of Southern slavery political power has become an absolute evil, that in the terrible war, the issue of which has covered such a sea of blood for all its details that cannot survive that the days of peace ring it, with the restoration of the Union as a Democratic party of power is assured, that the path to the restoration of the loyal States is rapidly and irresistably along with the current of events, that universal emancipation and that before the broken fragments of the late Democratic party can do anything, or hope to do anything in the Union restoration they must be relieved of this cause of Southern slavery This is the most important object in view in the next Presidency and it is morally certain that any party or candidate that will hardly obtain the vote of a solitary State in the election Even in 1860 with the solid vote of the Southern States, the Democratic ticket was defeated upon a sectional Democratic majority secured in Pennsylvania by the Bucktail party of money in her Old Democratic Bucktail party and a Union victory would have saved the Union and would need no special amendment to suit the purposes of a Union cordially restored but slavery But Whitney's cotton gin was invented, and then, with cotton the slave of the cotton plantation became a cash article, and slavery flourished apace until it ruled the country through the Democratic party It failed and the party failed with it on the repeal of the Missouri Compromise and in struction and party went to pieces in the sublime enterprise of breaking up the Union when only to let the protection of the Union dwell slavery like or pass away quietly from the land Clearly, then, it is because the policy of the Northern Democracy and all the conservative elements of the country to take a new departure—to strike out boldly for an amendment of the Constitution which will forever settle this troublesome question of slavery by removing the institution from the country

OUR LUMBER INTERESTS —Although Puget Sound claims no 'big thing,' in the way of lumber mills such as our sister in the State of Maine can boast, or even such as exist on Puget Sound, nearer home, yet for our facilities, the quality and quantity of lumber produced will bear a comparison with any other point of the country The mill of Messrs Harbaugh & Stuart is capable of cutting 200,000 feet of lumber per month, during the year, and 8 000 laths a day The manufacture of apple boxes has formed a prominent branch of their business the past year, which they have placed over 30,000 in market during the packing season just closed The amount of lumber furnished for use in the city, for the year ending December 31st, 1863 by this Company, amounted to nearly 2,000 000 feet The mill of Estes & Stimson, at the upper end of Front street during the past year has furnished 1,500,000 feet of the amount of lumber consumed in Portland, 348,000 ft has been manufactured during January and February, 1864, 150 500 laths were made in the same period The bark Industry is at present loading at this mill however, the greatest bulk of all the lumber, laths, &c, manufactured, find a market about home, and we are sure the demand is increasing from the appearance of the numerous new buildings, already in course of construction

OUR AQUILLA —We have no vessel sunken at any of our wharves, with an ironclad on board, to attract the curious, but we have a vessel that has passed through almost everything, and been given up as lost, and all that for nearly ten months, which is at present discharging her cargo in this city We allude to the bark Iwanowna The work of hoisting salt from this vessel progressed yesterday at the rate of ten tons an hour It has been aboard so long that it has become packed, and almost as hard as a rock Capt Brown, who was engaged to at last bring her safely into this port, from San Francisco, informed us that he had forebodings of great damage that the cargo had sustained, before the hatches were raised, not really knowing whether it was salt or very salty water, that he had brought to us But when the hatches were removed the salt was shown in the highest state of preservation, having retained its savor fully, through all the perils of the voyage, of nearly ten months which, under ordinary circumstances could have been made in one week As the vessel rises out of the water she exposes quit a growth of sea grass upon her hull

ST PATRICK'S DAY —To morrow will be universally celebrated by the sons and daughters of Erin as the anniversary of the translation to heaven of the patron saint of Irishmen—St Patrick The 17th of March has always been celebrated by our Irish citizens, and to morrow they will revive the memories of Erin, in a glorious overflow of fraternal feeling, and exuberant spirits such as the recurrence of the day engenders, throughout the country at large Arrangements have been made for a proper observance of the day in this vicinity The Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society have chartered the steamer John H Couch, to make an excursion to Vancouver, leaving at 8½ o'clock in the morning, and to return in the evening This will afford everybody an excellent opportunity to visit the Fort, on a pleasure trip, at a reasonable rate of fare Those who feel inclined to join in a dancing party can do so while there, in the evening, as the Vancouver Society have engaged the Metropolis Hall for that purpose The Mechanics' Brass Band will accompany the steamer on the occasion, and enliven the trip with their musical talent

ASSAYS OF QUARTZ —We were yesterday shown the first silver bar from our new silver mines It was made at the office of Tracy & King from the two kegs of rock recently sent by Walter R Davis, from the Oro Fino and Morning Star lodes, in Owyhee, spoken of in the OREGONIAN at the time This rock was crushed and melted by Mr D J Sydam, for the Assayers, and yields a bar weighing 21 32 100 ozs

The fineness of the gold is 200-ths
do do silver is 7.28 ths

Value of the gold	$68 14
do do silver	20 06
Total	$108 20

This, from about seventy pounds of rock, shows a very large yield Mills are already ordered for that portion of our mines, and we are sure this little bar is but a precursor of the many big bricks to come through our city, with a fair prospect that we may some day equal Washoe, in the amount of silver produced.

THE BATTLE CRY OF FREEDOM —On our 4th page this morning we present the soul stirring and patriotic song, entitled The Battle Cry of Freedom This is one of the songs which will be sung by multitudes throughout the loyal States, during the approaching campaign, as it is now sung by the noble heroes in arms, fighting our national battles Our readers should preserve it—others will be published, as we can procure them.

CANYON CREEK GOLD —Mr Case, of the firm of H Case & Co, of Canyon City, and Mr Steen, yesterday exhibited to us some specimens of gold from their claims at Canyon city, one of which weighed 32½ oz, a portion of which was rose quartz, say perhaps 4 or 5 oz, the rest gold worth $17 75 per oz, and one other piece of pure gold, free from quartz, worth $18 per oz, weighing $85 These gentlemen arrived on Monday night bringing 761 oz, which they send direct to the mint at San Francisco, also, 125 oz, for other parties in this city They came principally to procure machinery to assist their operations These gentlemen will take up a steam engine and four derricks for their claims Canyon city is regarded as

OUR LUMBER INTERESTS —Although Portland claims no "big thing," in the way of lumber mills, such as our sister in the State of Maine can boast, or even such as exist on Puget Sound, nearer home, yet for our facilities, the quality and quantity of lumber produced will bear a comparison with any other point of the country. We allude to the bark Incanowna The work of taking salt from this vessel progressed yesterday at the rate of ten tons an hour. It has been aboard so long that it has become soaked, and almost as hard as a rock. Capt Brown who was engaged to at last bring her safely into this port, from San Francisco, informed us that he had forebodings of great damage that the cargo had sustained, before the hatches were raised, not really knowing whether it was salt, or very salty water, that he had brought to us But when the hatches were removed the salt was shown in the highest state of preservation, having retained its power fully, through all the perils of the voyage, of nearly ten months, which, under ordinary circumstances, could have been made in one week As the vessel rises out of the water she exposes quite a growth of sea grass upon her hull

ST PATRICK'S DAY —To morrow will be universally celebrated by the sons and daughters of Erin, as the anniversary of the translation to heaven of the patron saint of Irish land St Patrick. The 17th of March has always been celebrated by our Irish citizens, and to-morrow they will revive the memories of Erin, in a glorious overflow of fraternal feeling, and exuberant spirits, such as the occasion of the day engenders, throughout the country at large. Arrangements have been made for a proper observance of the day in this vicinity The Portland Hibernian Benevolent Society have chartered the steamer John H. Couch, to make an excursion to Vancouver, leaving at 8½ o'clock in the morning and to return in the evening This will afford everybody an excellent opportunity to visit the Fort, on a pleasure trip, at a reasonable rate of fare, Those who feel inclined to join a dancing party can do so while there, in the forenoon, as the Vancouver Society have engaged the Metropolis Hall for that purpose The Hibernians' Brass Band will accompany the excursion on the occasion, and enliven the trip with their musical talent.

ASSAY OF QUARTZ —We were yesterday shown the first silver bar from our new silver mine It was made at the office of Tracy & King, from the two kegs of rock recently sent by Walter R Davis, from the Ore Fino and Morning Star lodes, in Owyhee, spoken of in the OREGONIAN at the time. This rock was crushed and melted by Mr D J Sydon, assayers, and yields a bar weighing 28 lbs 490 ozs

Value of the gold in 200 lbs	do silver in 7.28 lbs.	$85 14
Value of the gold	do silver	23 94
Total		$108 20

Thus, from about seventy pounds of rock, shows a very large yield. Mills are already erected for that portion of our mines, and we are sure this little bar is but a precursor of the many big bricks to come through our city, with a fair prospect that we may some day equal Washoe, in the amount of silver produced.

THE BATTLE CRY OF FREEDOM —On our 4th page this morning we present the soul stirring and patriotic song, entitled The Battle Cry of Freedom. This is one of the songs which will be sung by multitudes throughout the United States, during the approaching campaign, as it is now sung by the noble heroes in arms, fighting our national battles Our readers should preserve it—others will be published, as we can procure them

CANYON CREEK GOLD —Mr. Case, of the firm of H Case & Co., of Canyon City and Mr Steen, yesterday exhibited to us some specimens of gold from their claims at Canyon city, one of which weighed 32½ oz., a portion of which was rose quartz, say perhaps 4 or 5 oz, the rest gold worth $17 75 per oz, and one other piece of pure gold, free from quartz, worth $18 per oz, weighing $85 These gentlemen arrived on Monday night bringing 761 oz, which they send direct to the mint at San Francisco, also 125 oz, for other parties in this city They came prepared to procure machinery to assist their operations These gentlemen will take up a steam engine and four derricks for their claims Canyon city is regarded as one of the richest regions yet developed in our mines, and this year will be a very busy place.

OREGON MYER —While we were enjoying the warmth of the sunshine yesterday the people in the southern portion of the State were being "wet down" with a regular Oregon mist and rain So the telegraph reported.

OUR DISPATCHES —We present the readers of the OREGONIAN this morning with news from New York, Chicago, Cairo, etc., of yesterday That we call lightning sure

A. B. RICHARDSON is decidedly a good auctioneer—and it is interesting to hear his discourses upon the quality and kind of goods he offers for sale. An assortment worth having is to be put up this morning, and we predict bidders will be numerous, and bidding lively.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE —The plays at this theatre were not as well attended last evening as they deserved, by a long way Mrs. W H Leighton, the deservedly popular queen of comic mimicry, will not remain but a few nights before she is to be married—for we know we should go off in raptures at the idea of such a thing about the low city Mr Myers is playing of course in his Ben Bircham and Mr Watson fills his previous good position, so also will the balance of the company

FIREMEN'S DRILL —The Firemen were out in full force last evening and done considerable hard work, in pumping water for a cistern on Fourth street Suction was taken at the Washington street wharf, making the distance quite long The attempt to load any one of the machines was a failure— either because they didn't have water enough, or because they couldn't

CONFLAGRATIONS —A barn belonging to a Mr. Pelton, 12 miles east of this city, was destroyed by fire, together with one horse, hay etc, to the extent of $800 on Monday The fire is said to have originated by sparks from a packer's camp We are informed also, that the fire in the woods was still spreading, and had consumed the barn and other property of Jackson Twoll in Powell Valley, to the extent of $1,000

FIRE ALARMS —Yesterday there were two fire alarms in the city. One about noon at a black smithshop near the Front street bridge —but that was soon extinguished without any general alarm. About 5 P M alarm was given by the fire bells and all the machines were started in the direction of Pine street, but it so happened there was nothing serious, and the Companies returned home—it was occasioned by the ignition of some part of a smoke house in the rear of a Market on Front street, below Pine

CHANGED OFF —The flag, and halliards to No 1 Engine Company's flag staff, were carried away during the winds of Monday We believe they have been restored to the House, but to get them up again—"ay, there's the rub"

THE NEXT STEAMER —The Brother Jonathan will leave San Francisco to-morrow, by the way of Victoria, for Portland

SEWING MACHINES —In order to show the public the estimation the Grover & Baker Machines are held in through this State wherever their workings and virtues are known, we copy an extract from a letter received by the Agent in this city, Mr Pearsons, which will explain itself. It is only one of a number lately received, all expressing the same opinion —"Please send me by return boat a No 22 Grover & Baker Machine with Braider and all improvements belonging to it I have sold our Wheeler & Wilson Machine to get one of yours, as they suit us the best" The Agent informs us that he has calls almost daily to exchange some on other Wheeler & Wilson inferior Machine for a Grover & Baker, but is compelled to decline Their superiority is an established fact

THE ARCHDUKE MAXIMILIAN of Austria is likely to have a sorry time of it if he accepts the Crown of Mexico We doubt if he will till that throne as long as he will that splendid outfit said to be ordered for him of the celebrated California Clothiers, Houston, Hastings & Co of Montgomery street, San Francisco. Their trade is on the increase and is already enormous

The Mania for Postage Stamps

"Have you a blue Sardinian?" "I'll give you a black Prussian for a Russian." "I want a yellow Saxon." Such is the incomprehensible jargon that frequently puzzles grave fathers of families at their own breakfast tables, or startles the propriety of decorous matrons and maiden aunts, in their after dinner retirement with a circle of precocious youngsters. What, in the name of the present year of grace, does it all mean?

The Stamp Collector's Magazine on our writing table endeavors to inform us. The numbers date from the commencement of the present year, they are very neatly printed, and ornamented by a frontispiece representing animated groups of all nations reading and writing letters, and despatching bales, and otherwise encouraging good fellowship, and constant intercommunication. The journals are issued monthly, and the price is four shillings per annum. Each number of the periodical presents its subscribers with an "unobliterated foreign or colonial postage stamp."

So—the murder is out. The key to the whole is contained in this single announcement. These magazines are merely the representatives of a widely spread mania for stamp collecting, which, running through all classes of the community, even as did the lottery fever or frank mania of old times, has succeeded in elevating itself to the rank of a remunerative and respectable business, capable of being conducted alike by tradesmen in their shops and warehouses, or by private parties, who, wishing to increase their little means, can bargain with their customers through the medium of advertisements or letters.

The traffic in used and unused postage stamps of various colors and countries, for the purpose of forming collections and stocking albums, first commenced in Belgium, among the girls and boys at the numerous schools or pensions in that country. Their elders, amused at the outset by their earnestness and enthusiasm in so apparently trivial a fancy, ended by imbibing the infection which rapidly spread throughout France and Germany. Soon there was a kind of regular exchange held on the Boulevard Sebastopol, in Paris, for the buying and selling of postage stamps. This was speedily suppressed by the local authorities, but even at the present moment, in defiance or evasion of a law which prohibits all traffic in the gardens of the Tuileries, amateurs assemble there every Sunday and Thursday, and manage to carry on this new species of traffic "under the rose."

When the mania reached London, its victims established a temporary exchange in Birchen Lane, in the city, and in several of the alleys leading therefrom. This was in the spring of 1862, when, during the pleasant twilight of the short evenings, a most animated scene was presented for the amusement of the philosophical observer. From fifty to a hundred individuals, old men, youths, and mere boys, middle aged persons of unimpeachable respectability, ladies of modest and decorous presence, even more than one personage of exalted rank, bargaining and contending in this singular traffic with the utmost eagerness and virgenty—such was the tableau vivant which stayed the steps of the least interested passer by. The value of stamps in this exchange being wholly supposititous, was subject to considerable fluctuations, single stamps being rated on one and the same night at a penny or twopence or a shilling in value, or a small collection would pass from hand to hand, increasing in the course of an hour or two from two shillings to four, eight, or even ten shillings. The Birchin Lane exchange, like its prototype in Paris, was eventually put down by the police, and any later dealings there have necessarily been surreptitious.

Dr Gray, of the British Museum, and other writers on the subject—which has already an established literature of its own—enumerate various advantages, mental and moral, to be derived from the hearty prosecution of this whimsical species of commerce. According to these eminent amateurs of the science, the sedulous collecting and classification of postage stamps teaches geography, history, the statistics and political positions of distant countries, inculcates business habits, commercial confidence, order, honor, and punctuality, and affords room for the display of much artistic taste and skill in the arrangement of the many tinted and often beautifully engraved scamps in the albums specially contrived for that purpose.

Admitting the British Colonies into our calculations, there are more than forty modifications of Queen Victoria's portrait, in several different shades of color. The postage stamp of the lowest money value at its ordinary rate is the "centime" of France, worth a fraction less than two fifths of an English farthing, the highest being the four dollar California Pony Express, representing the sum of sixteen shillings and four pence. For beauty of form and hue, the postage stamps of France and Greece, and among our own dependencies, those of Nova Scotia bear away the palm, while the English penny postage stamp and the Postage stamps of Belgium are about on a par, as far as neatness is concerned. Siberian stamps are of the largest size issued, and those of Mecklenburgh Schwerin take rank as the smallest. For scarcity and daily increasing value, the old issues of the Barbados and New Caledonian, and those of Spain, Portugal, British Guiana, and Van Diemen's Land may be specially particularized. So may the stamps of the Sandwich Islands, Nicaragua and the Philippines, which are extremely rare, as are also those of the Italian Duchies. Such of our readers as may wish to turn "an honest" future "penny," should hasten forthwith to make a large investment in Roman Pontifical stamps, which are with good reason expected at no very distant date, to attain an almost fabulous value.

Temporary issues are always rare and valuable. Some time ago, the supply of postage stamps failed in the British Colony at the Cape of Good Hope. There was a delay in procuring "the needful" from the mother country, and pending its arrival native artists produced some poor imitations of the requisite stamps. These spurious stamps are now almost impossible to be procured especially the three penny and four penny ones. Local stamps employed within narrow limits invariably fetch high prices. Those of the Confederate States are much in demand.

Among the various modes of disposing of postage stamps, they are sometimes made the object of a raffle. A number of individuals will subscribe, say a shilling each, for the chances of obtaining a collection of stamps of two or more hundreds in extent. Stamp merchants keep their depots all over the country many of them entirely subsisting by this novel traffic. In London alone there exist at least a dozen regular dealers in stamps, while our seaports, especially the important one of Liverpool, abound with them. Some dealers confine themselves to "maculate" or "immaculate stamps—the fashionable terms for obliterated" and "unused" others deal exclusively in scarce or obsolete varieties. Some are willing to see or exchange others again, combining with this abnormal commerce more ordinary trades, present their customers with stamps according to their amount of patronage. Stamps are purchased on commission, agents are advertised for lists of articles supplied or distributed to parties concerned. Collections of stamps are frequently advertised for sale by private individuals, varying in extent from two or three hundred to a thousand or more, and offered at prices averaging from ten to forty pounds. Albums to contain these are got up in every style, from plain cloth, at one shilling, to "best morocco relief, with clasps" at one pound five. Stamps are likewise received by benevolent individuals to sell for charitable purposes and given away as prizes to the solvers of riddles in struggling periodicals. Lastly, there are numbers of private persons, many of them being youths of fourteen or even younger, who contrive to make a remunerative speculation of their dealings in stamps.

But let amateurs beware of forgeries. These are so frequent, and the differences that exist between a real and a forged stamp are so exceedingly minute and difficult of detection, that the constant employment of a magnifying glass is strenuously recommended by the initiated. The Swiss are noted forgers, and circulated, with impunity, several kinds of spurious Zurichs. There are likewise in circulation good imitations of the Danish stamps. Some issues are wholly fictitious. Of this class are "Verein Hamburgers," designed and issued by no higher authority than an unscrupulous and enterprising engraver.

The stamp mania or timbromania, is not always views in a purely business or selfish aspect, it has its absurd and amusing relations with life. Of such was the ridiculous display made at a Parisian dalmasque, by a gentleman who might have found a better employment for his money. This reckless individual attracted universal attention by presenting himself in a costume entirely covered with postage stamps, about a third of which were "immaculate." The original texture of his hat was concealed by a quantity of French ten and fifteen centimes a piece—or a stamp answering to our double postage levied on unpaid or underpaid letters.

A new galop may be seen in the windows of any music shop in London, the title page of which is ornamented with facsimiles of foreign postage stamps, in all their various colors. The galopisteit is entitled "Arthur O'Leary's Stamp Galop."

Down in the city, an enterprising tradesman displays behind his glittering plate glass panes an assortment of curious breast pins, consisting of imitations of foreign stamps, enameled in their several delicate hues, and set in gold.

Some postage stamp collectors, especially in private life, devote their energies to storing up vast quantities of stamps of a particular issue, trusting to the good offices of time to render them exceedingly scarce, and consequently valuable. We cannot accord our entire approbation to a few individuals among these far seeing speculators, who are engaged in collecting and hoarding common English penny stamps, acting with a greedy eye to future profit in what every truly loyal subject of our beloved Queen trusts is still a remote period, that when the present feminine portraiture on our current stamps will necessitate a new issue, bearing the likeness of our then Gracious Sovereign and Defender of the Faith, King Edward VII.

AYER'S

Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

Dr. J. C. AYER: Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache by only one dose of your Pills. Their operation on the stomach and liver is prompt and powerful, which they clear and set to work at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect,
EDWARD PRESBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1st, 1864.
Sir: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since they were made, and cannot hesitate to say that they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick, and decided; consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disorder that was obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,
ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. Co., N. Y., Nov. 14, 1863.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. Neighbors advised taking your Pills, which soon cured her, expelling large worms (of more than a foot long) from the body. They afterwards cured her son of worse affliction of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had tried in vain my wife cured his child with two doses of your Pills, while there around us passed from five to twenty dollars doctor bills, and lost much time without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours is truly a blessing to humanity, and will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Christ Church, Boston.
DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among the sick to whom I have given them. During late the organs of digestion and the blood have been much disordered, but your Pills have corrected the evil. I can cheerfully recommend them to my friends as a safe and reliable remedy. J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING Co., N. Y., Jan. 14, 1864.
DEAR SIR: I have been using your Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to correct the impurities of the blood, and rectify the fountains of the blood. JOHN C. SPALDING, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, Rose or Fall Tetter, Tumors, and Ulcers.

From a Practicing Merchant of Lowell, Feb. 4, 1864.
DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best I have ever used. They have cured my children of running sores upon their hands and feet that had defied the skill of our best physicians. Her mother has been long troubled with a humor, which she also tried your Pills and they Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawks, Rector of St. James' Church, New York.
NEW YORK, March 6, 1861.
HONORED SIR: I feel it due to you and the public to say that your Pills have brought me relief in a case of Rheumatism, which had defied all other remedies, and brought me to the verge of the grave. For years I suffered excruciating pain, which ended in chronic debility. Your Pills, by relieving and finally curing me, have done for me what the most eminent of the profession could not do. As the above is a plain statement of facts, which can be substantiated by many living witnesses, I request you to make such use of it as you may think proper. Respectfully yours,
WM. HAWKS.

SENATE CHAMBER, Boston, Dec. 1863.
DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured of the Gout—a painful disease—by your Pills. Yours, &c., SAMUEL H. PHILLIPS.

For Dropsy, Plethora, Hundred Complaints, requiring an active purgative, these Pills are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness of Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are unrivaled.

Fits, Suppression, Pain in the Side, Indigestion and even Deafness, and Blindness, have been cured by this admirable medicine.

Most of the pills in market contain calomel, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, when taken by the unwary produces more harm than good. From the dreadful consequences of these mercurial pills, we believe the public will be glad to learn that these Pills contain no mercury or any mineral whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to those who have used this article in every town and almost every family in the land, of its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints. Its fame has made it known to the world, and its virtues are too universally known to require comment. Wherever the disease exists, and wherever men have been made acquainted with its effects, there the CHERRY PECTORAL is held in the most estimation, as the antidote for the most dangerous and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Within the circle of our acquaintance, there is hardly a family but has been benefited by its use, in the most powerful affections of the throat and lungs, and many a life has been saved by timely resort to it, when the first symptoms of disease were manifested. Even in the advanced stages of pulmonary disease, when all other remedies had failed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to be a sovereign remedy. Its wonderful power over the most dangerous and distressing affections of the throat and lungs is known to all. It is the best protection that can be employed by the pleasantest and safest of all medicines, against the insidious diseases that fasten upon the throat and lungs, and yet, prepared as it is from the virtues of pectoral herbs, there is no one who can be persuaded that it will not cure them. We have abundant grounds for saying that it does more than this—more than any other remedy can do—it does cure. Keep it by you and use it when you feel the first premonitory symptoms of disease, and thousands of lives may be saved every year, that are now lost by neglecting to check the insidious approaches of pulmonary complaints, which, when neglected, fasten their fangs upon the throat and lungs, and will not let go their hold while life remains. All know the dreadful fatality of these diseases, and all should know the virtues of this remedy, and the certainty with which it cures them. It is still made of the best materials that skill can procure, and will not be changed in its composition, but will be found as perfect as the best it has ever been. Prepared and sold by
